SKIN NEEDLING

WHAT DOES THE TREATMENT INVOLVE?

The process itself is nearly painless; the needles only penetrate the top layer of the skin plus the speed and depth of penetration can be adjusted by the operator based on your level of comfort, ensuring a great experience plus optimal results.

Immediately after your treatment there will be visible redness on the treatment area which can be easily covered post treatment. Most inflammation will have disappeared one day after the procedure. Whilst patients should avoid direct sunlight in the first days after a micro-needling treatment, it's possible to go back to work immediately.

HOW OFTEN SHOULD YOU HAVE A TREATMENT?

This is a very patient specific, such that your skin type and condition will indicate your number and frequency of treatments as determined by your aesthetician/practitioner.

In general, most patients undergo 3-6 treatments at intervals of four to eight weeks. Following this, a maintenance plan will then be created to sustain your results.

Medical micro-needling is clinically proven to:

- Treat acne scarring, reduce the depth of scars
- Normalise the skin structure
- Minimise fine lines and wrinkles
- Reduce pores and improve skin texture
- Increase collagen formation
